SpongeBob and Bland Farms are coming together to take a flavor trip to Bikini Bottom!

Glenville, GA—You may wonder, what does SpongeBob have to do with Vidalia® Sweet Onions? Besides onions being one of the key ingredients to the signature Krabby Patty—both will be playing a starring role in the produce aisle this spring!

Bland Farms® and Paramount Pictures Corporation are thrilled to announce their partnership for the 2020 Vidalia® Sweet Onion season in conjunction with the release of The SpongeBob Movie in theaters next spring.

The SpongeBob franchise attracts millions of viewers of all age groups. For 20 years, SpongeBob SquarePants has remained a global icon recognized by kids and adults across a multitude of demographics. Bland Farms® hopes to capture this excitement and align their own “Roots to Retail.” story with both retailers and consumers.

Bland Farms is anticipating a big boost in sales as they capture a younger, more diverse market. Bland hopes this strategic alignment will also tap into millennial nostalgia. “We are thrilled to launch this partnership with the upcoming SpongeBob movie. This has always been a family show in our house and now my grandkids are watching it too” says Delbert Bland, owner and president of Bland Farms. “SpongeBob SquarePants is one of the most popular characters around the world, so who better to help sell our most popular onion—the Vidalia®.”

Over the next 6 months, Bland Farms and Paramount Pictures will promote this exciting partnership through dynamic point-of-sale merchandising displays, national ad campaigns and an interactive microsite on BlandFarms.com. An online consumer sweepstakes is in the works as well.

OPERATION

Bland Farms is among the largest grower, packer, and shipper of sweet onions in the United States. Bland Farms represents roughly one third of the entire Vidalia® sweet onion volume, and has the largest controlled-environment storage capacity in the industry. Bland Farms was the first company in the industry to market sweet onions year-round. In order to meet the needs of customers year-round Bland Farms had to expand growing operations beyond the borders of Georgia, across the United States, and internationally.

FARMING PHILOSOPHY

Bland Farms is a dynamic leader in the specialized field of sweet onions dedicated to studying our crops, growing regions, and development of the methods that will continually improve the use of our soil for increased productions.
